CLAIMS 1-62 ARE PRESENTED FOR EXAMINATION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claims 1-60, drawn to post-biopsy cavity treatment implants , classified in class 424, subclass 422 or class 600, subclass 213, depending on the particular materials present.

II. Claims 61-62, drawn to methods for treating a cavity created by a percutaneous exisional procedure or simply an exisional procedure, classified in class 514, various subclasses depending on the specific active agent(s) present, i.e., radiopaque agent.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the process as claimed could be practiced by any number of various products, including treating a body cavity with an anti-microbial compound prior to suturing the cavity or treating a body cavity with a different implant such as a treatment implant that is unitary in its design and not having a radiopaque compound present.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Election of Species If Group I is Elected

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

I. an implant comprising a dye in addition to a radiopaque compound;

II. an implant comprising a pigment in addition to a radiopaque compound;

III. an implant comprising a contrast medium in addition to a radiopaque compound;

IV. an implant comprising a therapeutic agent in addition to a radiopaque compound;

V. an implant comprising mixtures of the above in addition to a radiopaque compound where such mixture is defined if this specie is elected as per the present claims.

The species are independent or distinct because the additional compounds present in addition to the radiopaque compound do not appear to be obvious variants and each would be capable of supporting separate patents.

Should the invention of Group I be elected, Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1 and 33 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
